Attempting at times to be a purveyor of truth and justice, hiding behind the guise ensuring American tax dollars are being used wisely. From their "Who Am I, and Why Should You Care?" section.

I'm Jackson Holt—a writer, investigator, and storyteller shaped by a lifelong curiosity about the truths that define our world. Raised in a family where stories and secrets were part of everyday life, I learned to ask questions, challenge assumptions, and pay attention to the spaces in between. A Jesuit education sharpened that instinct, training me to think critically, embrace complexity, and recognize patterns that others overlook.

Much of my career has been spent examining how events unfold, how decisions are made, and how unseen forces shape outcomes. From political shifts to cultural movements, I've worked to break down the mechanics of influence, power, and the quiet negotiations that often go unnoticed.

Now based in Mallorca, I continue to explore these themes through journalism, essays, and fiction. This site is where my work lives. It's not about easy answers or neatly packaged takes but about looking deeper, connecting ideas, and sometimes using fiction to explore what facts alone cannot.

Whether through reporting or storytelling, my goal remains the same: to provoke thought, evoke feeling, and uncover the unseen.

However all may not be as it seems.

A deeper search contains very intriguing connections behind the scenes.

Archived versions of jacksonholt.com and various accounts paint a completely different picture.

 For instance, archived versions of the website and social media profiles in 2022 showed Jackson Holt was an American, divorced, middle-aged father and grandfather, with experience in the defense industry, which matches Curtin's background.

I'm a late 40-something, divorced, single-dad. And these are my stories. My work, my play, my travel, and my viewpoints of all manner of things (including how the arms trade actually works)

 The profile changed by at least mid-2023 almost certainly in an attempt to obfuscate biographical details, and by late 2024 Jackson Holt claimed to be a British woman living in Mallorca, Spain.

 Archived versions of the jacksonholt.com website from April 2022 claim Holt is "late 40-something, divorced, single-dad." Similarly, Holt's Twitter profile previously reflected the user was a father and grandfather with centrist political views.

 Who is James "Jim" Curtin and where does he fit within this campaign?

James "Jim" Curtin

James "Jim" Curtin very likely operates the anonymous "Jackson Holt" online personality, judging by his company's role in selling Holt's book, archived details of Holt's identity, and Curtin's email and phone numbers probably serving as recovery contacts for at least two of Holt's email addresses. Curtin likely established the Holt persona in April 2022, based on an archived post to the jacksonholt.com website and associated Instagram and Facebook accounts, but did not begin posting defamatory messages against Cyberlux until possibly late 2024 despite claims that those messages began in 2023, based on a review of archived website activity.<sup>4</sup>

Jim Curtin

- Holt's website featured a "Cyberlux Disclaimer" dated 21 March 2023, however an archived version of the site from 26 March 2023 shows the site's primary focus at that time reflected Holt's background as a self-described "arms dealer" and reflections of Holt's travel experiences. Investigators found no mentions of Cyberlux in archived posts from that time.<sup>5</sup>

Curtin likely resides in Pittsford, New York, but also spends time in Alexandria, Virginia, judging by his voter registration, residential addresses, and social media activity.<sup>6 7 8</sup> He currently works as an advisor in the defense industry, with a career spanning in related fields since the mid-1990s. Curtin is likely divorced, with two grown children, and a probable grandson, judging by social media content.<sup>9 10</sup>

If you want further proof check out the writing style between his LinkedIn account and fake girl X account lol ago, I became aware of what I believed to be significant misuses within the Foreign Military Sales (FMS) system by a US company. I've since disclosed this to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and have cooperated—quietly and professionally—with the appropriate agencies. I've been targeted with retaliation: defamation, slander, and false accusations by individuals now facing the consequences of their own actions. It's not a defense. It's a reminder. Truth matters. Even when it's inconvenient. I know this: you've never been pressured to stay quiet to protect your company. You know this: you're not alone, and you're not powerless.

$CYBL I feel so honored to have a full AI article written about me from @jacksonholt

Jim Curtin thinks I'm some some sort of paid assassin for cybl 🤖🤖🤖

Your lack of investigatory journalism is showing Jim. I'm just an ordinary dude with 3 million shares that doesn't like the fact that you have a vendetta against the company and are trying to hide your ulterior motives behind a fake persona on x and your AI written articles.

I also don't believe that you were threatened on WhatsApp, otherwise you would have posted it for everyone to see.

Truth of the matter is you have been exposed and you are going down and to jail eventually.

I actually think it's accurate. You yourself say you are a woman but also they/them. Plus you're a dude in your real life. A ménage a toi if you will.

And did Jim Curtin submit the anonymous letter in the Atlantic Wave case — potentially on behalf of a company he advises, partially owned by a foreign government — in attempt to damage Cyberlux Scybl reputation, interfering with its business operations & harming shareholders.

Are they working with AWH to weaponize the court system and coordinating lawsuits against Cyberlux — which is clearly business interference — in an effort to irreparably harm the company & block its acquisition of Datron , including its IP, mfg capabilities, and workforce? Scybl

Did @piotrwoj1956, @adanbart, or @WBGroup_PL authorize a coordinated slander campaign to drive Cyberlux toward insolvency? Is @WBGroup_PL partially state-owned by the Polish government? SCYBL

Why would he go so far to possibly submit the anonymous letter in the Atlantic Wave case, the same case that has been continually pushed into public view and only framing the one sided narrative by this account? $CYBL

You spread disinformation, tag shareholders and company partners, in an effort to suppress the stock price and devalue the business. That is, by definition, business interference and stock manipulation. $CYBL

You try to illegally manipulate their stock for years, tag them and the sec and their partners, try to get city attorneys fired, write letters to courts, fuck with mayors and make accusations about shareholders. Yeah, it's the "wrong people"

Can someone explain in full what this all means?? Who is right, who is wrong.

Shareholders care, wish there was an official update call from the company members to hear them first hand

Get a life Jim. I never threatened you and besides owning shares I have no affiliation with the company. Maybe some of the things you say are accurate about the company but you come across as a child and extremely desperate. I knew you were full of crap about everything the second you started saying I worked for cybl and I got my own AI article written about me lol. We all know who you really are, it's so sad you keep trying to pretend to not be Jim Curtin who lives here

Holts entire "case" is literally all non sequitur and straw man arguments. He also plays a "prosecutor" in search of a crime. It's so transparent and low iq it's ridiculous.

"RacketeerX" on X has a pretty good deep dive into to whole JH scam and will likely have more soon.

Jackson Holt @thejac... · 1h
Writing about $CYBL's public records isn't a crime.

But hysterically ranting about "conspiracies" while being part of a coordinated effort to promote a stock?

That's not irony. That's hypocrisy.

Not Bruce @BruceMc... · 12m
Trying to influence courts, going after public servants and manipulating markets through a conspiracy is absolutely a crime, and deeply immoral.

I know Chuck. Old man Watts
son. Lived out on the old Watts place. I was just discussing Cyberlux with him over dinner last night. Chuck said that his old job was not nearly as exciting as suing Jackson Holt.
