Attempting at times to be a purveyor of truth and justice, hiding behind the guise ensuring American tax dollars are being used wisely. From their "Who Am I, and Why Should You Care?" section.

I'm Jackson Holt—a writer, investigator, and storyteller shaped by a lifelong curiosity about the truths that define our world. Raised in a family where stories and secrets were part of everyday life, I learned to ask questions, challenge assumptions, and pay attention to the spaces in between. A Jesuit education sharpened that instinct, training me to think critically, embrace complexity, and recognize patterns that others overlook.

Much of my career has been spent examining how events unfold, how decisions are made, and how unseen forces shape outcomes. From political shifts to cultural movements, I've worked to break down the mechanics of influence, power, and the quiet negotiations that often go unnoticed.

Now based in Mallorca, I continue to explore these themes through journalism, essays, and fiction. This site is where my work lives. It's not about easy answers or neatly packaged takes but about looking deeper, connecting ideas, and sometimes using fiction to explore what facts alone cannot.

Whether through reporting or storytelling, my goal remains the same: to provoke thought, evoke feeling, and uncover the unseen.

Who is James "Jim" Curtin and where does he fit within this campaign?

James "Jim" Curtin

James "Jim" Curtin very likely operates the anonymous "Jackson Holt" online personality, judging by his company's role in selling Holt's book, archived details of Holt's identity, and Curtin's email and phone numbers probably serving as recovery contacts for at least two of Holt's email addresses. Curtin likely established the Holt persona in April 2022, based on an archived post to the jacksonholt .com website and associated Instagram and Facebook accounts, but did not begin posting defamatory messages against Cyberlux until possibly late 2024 despite claims that those messages began in 2023, based on a review of archived website activity.⁴

Jim Curtin

- Holt's website featured a "Cyberlux Disclaimer" dated 21 March 2023, however an archived version of the site from 26 March 2023 shows the site's primary focus at that time reflected Holt's background as a self-described "arms dealer" and reflections of Holt's travel experiences. Investigators found no mentions of Cyberlux in archived posts from that time.⁵

Curtin likely resides in Pittsford, New York, but also spends time in Alexandria, Virginia, judging by his voter registration, residential addresses, and social media activity.⁶ "He currently works as an advisor in the defense industry, with a career spanning in related fields since the mid-1990s. Curtin is likely divorced, with two grown children, and a probable grandson, judging by social media content."¹⁰

When doing a forensic deep dive into the accounts, 3rd party investigators were able to establish unique identifiers that were possibly used as backup accounts for Jackson Holt's email addresses including phone numbers and email backup accounts.

Selector Attribution

Investigators identified three selectors (two phone numbers and one email address) linked to Jim Curtin that were possibly used as backup accounts for Jackson Holt's email addresses. The three selectors contained elements that matched the backup clues: linked to social media and subscription accounts, based on proprietary data.

ago, I became aware of what I believed to be significant misuses within the Foreign Military Sales (FMS) system by a US contractor. I cooperated—quietly and professionally—with the appropriate agencies. I've been targeted with retaliation, defamation, slander, and false accusations by individuals now facing the consequences of their own actions. It's a defense. It's a reminder. $CYBL I feel so honored to have a full AI article written about me from @jacksonholt

Jim Curtin thinks I'm some sort of paid assassin for cybl 🤖🤖🤖

Your lack of investigatory journalism is showing Jim. I'm just an ordinary dude with 3 million shares that doesn't like the fact that you have a vendetta against the company and are trying to hide your ulterior motives behind a fake persona on x and your AI written articles.

I also don't believe that you were threatened on WhatsApp, otherwise you would have posted it for everyone to see.

Truth of the matter is you have been exposed and you are going down and to jail eventually.

And did Jim Curtin submit the anonymous letter in the Atlantic Wave case — potentially on behalf of a company he advises, partially owned by a foreign government — in attempt to damage Cyberluxs $cybl reputation, interfering with its business operations & harming shareholders.

Writing about $CYBL's public records isn't a crime.

But hysterically ranting about "conspiracies" while being part of a coordinated effort to promote a stock?

That's not irony. That's hypocrisy.

Not Bruce @BruceMc... · 12m
Trying to influence courts, going after public servants and manipulating markets through a conspiracy is absolutely a crime, and deeply immoral.

"RacketeerX" on X has a pretty good deep dive into to whole JH scam and will likely have more soon.
